Silvia Nogales Barrios | Guitarrist - Creator

"Silvia Nogales Barrios, who has performed in her nascent career as a performer with excellent professional level. I highlight her trajectory as a creator of interdisciplinary projects since 2014. Some of them have been selected in the last two editions of the MusaE Project (Ministry of Culture of Spain) bringing the guitar repertoire in a didactic and interdisciplinary way to the public, breaking with the traditional canons of the classical concert, also enhancing current musical composition."

SEDA THE TRIP

Press dossierMore information

It is Silvia Nogales' most personal and ambitious project, an interdisciplinary ensemble that narrates a sensory journey around the world, starting in Argentina and ending in Japan, passing through Brazil, Spain, the Middle East and the United States. It features the music of important composers, such as four-time Grammy winner Claudia Montero, Clarice Assad and Anna Segal, as well as María Parra and Cinthya García. In addition, Silvia Nogales incorporates two pieces of her own composition, animations by Elisa Martínez, narration of the story by actress Esther Acevedo, scenography by award-winning Alessio Meloni and audiovisual content by Martin Kraft -3Roots-.

LAS SEIS DONCELLAS DE JUAN RAMÓN JIMÉNEZ
INTERDISCIPLINARY CONCERT - 2014 TO 2024

This project becomes an interdisciplinary example in which Tedesco's music for narrator and guitar is fused with Laura Ferreiro's illustrations and Esther Acevedo's dramatic interpretation.

Silvia Nogales conceives a biographical concert through the life and work of the Nobel Prize winner. They travel throughout the Spanish geography: Places like the Liceo de Barcelona, the Eutherpe hall of León, the guitar festival of Haría in Lanzarote or the Juan March Foundation, among others.

WOMEN ON THE GUITAR
VIDEO OUTREACH IN NETWORKS

The project called Women in Guitar is a set of videos in which we delve into the lives of women guitarists who, for one reason or another, over the years have not received the attention they deserved. In many occasions they were teachers of great and well known guitarists of the last times, but they were never as well known as them. People like María Luisa Anido, Josefina Robledo or Monina Távora, of whom I have also spoken in the magazine Ritmo.

Projects

ALTAMIRA, ANCESTRAL AND MAGICAL INTERDISCIPLINARY CONCERT - 2018 TO 2024

It was born within the MusaE program, for which Silvia Nogales was selected for the second consecutive year. The premiere took place on November 2, 2018 in Altamira, within the interpretation set of the cave.

This proposal is intended to immerse the public in interesting aspects of the cave and its era, while enjoying works for guitar related to that mystical and ancestral environment. There are pieces by Leo Brouwer, Mateo Soto or R.Dyens, as well as other more traditional pieces by composers such as Manuel de Falla or Miquel Llobet and audiovisuals to contribute to the immersive experience.

DON QUIJOTE ENTRE LA VOZ Y EL DESEO

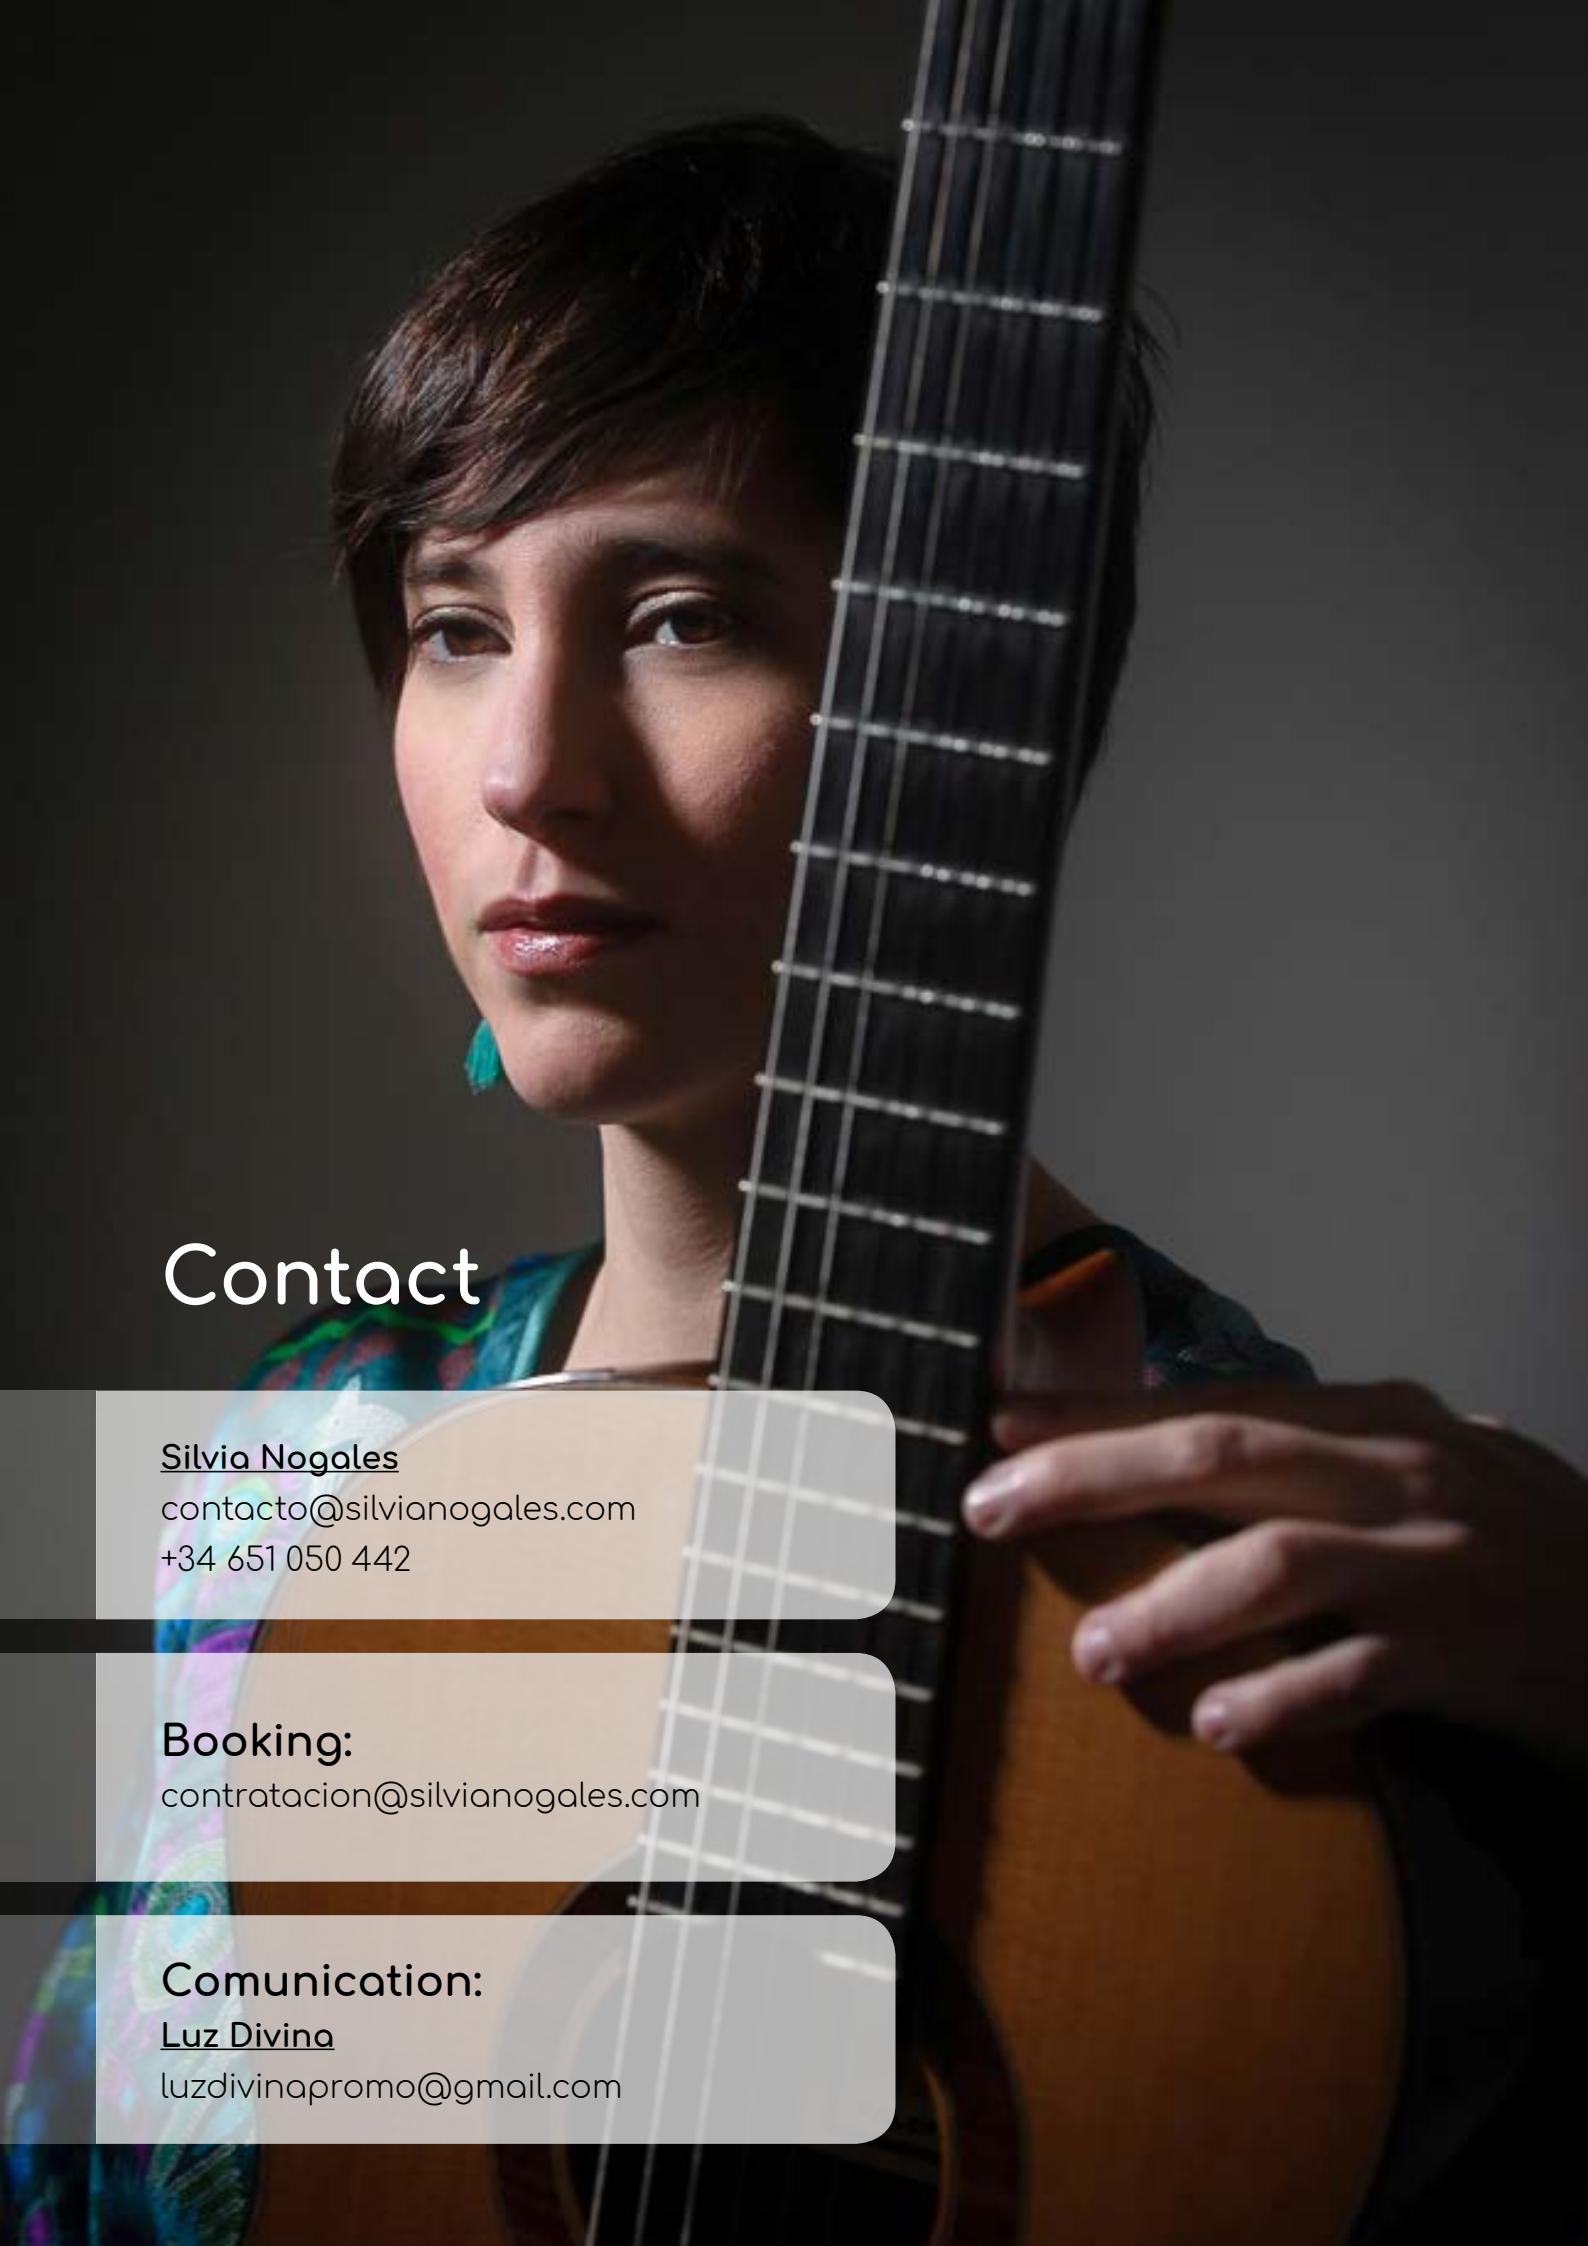

DON QUIJOTE, BETWEEN VOICE AND DESIRE INTERDISCIPLINARY CONCERT - 2015 A 2017

It was created to show the public the relationship between music and Cervantes, delving into the reception of Don Quixote under different ways of expression.

Cervantes acts in his works not only as a receiver of the musical reality of his time, but also as a disseminator of songs through recurring appearances in works such as Don Quixote, or in his Comedies and entremeses, in the Voyage of Parnassus or Galatea.
